

K. NERSISYAN

PRESIDENT OF THE NKR NATIONAL STATISTICAL SERVICE

MESSAGE

In each country a clear picture of the demographic situation in order to determine the prospects for socio-economic development strictly requires the availability of detailed statistical data about the population.

After conducting the first population census in our country have undergone significant socio-economic changes associated with the abundance, distribution, socio-demographic, economic activity of population, living conditions of households, living standards and other characteristics of the population.

For the countries that have adopted the path of economic and social reforms, which is The Nagorno-Karabakh Republic is very important the periodic census of the population, as their results will have significant implications for the design of public and economic policy, planning and management, and will provide an opportunity to learn the occurred changes in the social and economic levels of development, and to indicate new directions and principles and perspectives.

Analysis, assessment and management of these processes requires accurate and reliable information on the population, geographic distribution, socio-demographic characteristics, employment in the household, living conditions and other characteristics, as the main source of obtaining full information in these sections and signs the census of population.

To organize and conduct census of the Nagorno - Karabakh Republic to a high standard was carried out tremendous work by the National Statistical Service of the Nagorno - Karabakh Republic (NKR NSS) with the support of general government and local self-governing authorities and interested organizations.

Nagorno-Karabakh Republic 2015 Population Census was carried out at the respective levels, which implemented all the tasks.

I am sure that the results of the Population Census will largely contribute to the further socio-economic development of the Republic.

I Express my gratitude to all participants who hav direct involvement in the preparation, conducting and processing the census, the entire population of the Republic for active participation, the employees of the NKR NSS, NSS of the Republic of Armenia for substantial organizational and methodological aid in promoting of the Nagorno-Karabakh Republic 2015 Population Census.